

U. S. May Act to Halt Strike at Space Center

WASHINGTON (AP)—Government officials met in urgent session today to consider applying for a federal court injunction to stop picketing that has halted work at the U.S. Space Development Center at Huntsville, Ala.

The strike, now in its third day, threatens to delay the nation's moon exploration program.

Stuart Rothman, general counsel of the National Labor Relations Board, discussed with his aides the charges of a Huntsville subcontractor that picketing by members of AFL-CIO International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Local 558, is illegal.

The union has rejected government pleas that it end the work stoppage.

About 1,500 fellow AFL-CIO building trades workers have refused to cross picket lines—halting work on projects designed to help the United States catch up with Russia in space exploits.

It appeared likely that NLRB attorney would seek a court order to ban the picketing either late today or Friday.

Declares No Change Need in Space Plans

By VERN HAUGLAND

BLACKSBURG, Va. (AP)—Dr. Werner Von Braun, head of the U.S. program to develop rockets powerful enough to send men to the moon, said today there is no need to change U.S. space plans because of the sensational Soviet dual orbit this week.

On the contrary, Von Braun told newsmen, the nation cannot afford to waste time changing things around.

What the U.S. needs, he said, is not a crash program but continuing public support over a period of years.

"We cannot sit on our hands," he said.

Von Braun gave a detailed report on the Saturn moon-rocket program Wednesday night to 350 scientists, who are attending a lunar exploration conference, and more than 2,500 townspeople and students.

The World War II German rocket expert said arrangements are under way for the third flight test of the so-called small Saturn C-1 booster which will be capable of launching an Apollo spacecraft into orbit around the earth.

Von Braun said static testing of the fourth C-1 booster will begin this month. He added that the National Aeronautics and Space Administration is studying several missions for the fourth C-1 flight, including an engine-out test to simulate an emergency.

The rocket will take off with its full eight engines, and then one will be cut off in flight to see what happens.

"The C-1 is the first U.S. rocket that will exceed the capability of the rocket that the Soviets have been using. It will be followed by the advanced C-5 Saturn that will carry the three-man Apollo craft to the moon and back."

Von Braun called the C-5 "the next seven-league stride forward in rocket development," a very, very major project. He gave this description of the rocket:

It will stand 300 feet tall—taller than the Statue of Liberty—and its take-off weight will be the equivalent of one 707 jet in orbit 300 miles above the earth, drive a 40-ton load to the vicinity of the moon, send a twin-engine DC-3 airplane all the way around the sun, "or host a Chevrolet out of the solar system. I am not saying how far the C-5 can send a Volkswagen."

Von Braun said good progress is being made on the rocket stages and the engine.

Humphrey Says U. S. Profited From His Deal

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON

WASHINGTON (AP) — George M. Humphrey, former secretary of the Treasury, told Senate stockpile investigators today that the government as well as his mining company gained from a multi-million-dollar nickel stockpile contract.

Humphrey, wealthy Cleveland industrialist and honorary chairman of the M. A. Hanna Co., which handled the nickel operations, flatly disputed earlier testimony before a Senate subcommittee about excessive profits or special treatment on the contracts.

His prepared statement left to other Hanna officials, due to testify later, any answer to accusations by government auditors that the nickel contracts involved improper accounting and destruction of important company records.

Of all the stockpile contracts to expand production of nickel needed for the defense stockpiles, Humphrey said "the Hanna contracts involved the most efficient use of the least government money, either per pound of nickel bought or per pound of capacity created, and it is surely one of the comparatively few cases where every cent of its expenditure has already been fully repaid to the government with interest."

Humphrey, 72, appeared voluntarily before the special armed services subcommittee, headed by Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., which has been probing the $8-billion defense stockpiles.

President Kennedy had urged the investigation early this year, saying some $3.4 billion of surpluses existed and these might indicate abuses or "unconscionable profits."

Humphrey, a member of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's Cabinet from 1953 to 1957, disputed earlier testimony by government auditors and estimates by senators that Hanna profits from the nickel operations were $30 to $39 million or more.

He said the net profit to Hanna over the seven-year period was $7,535,000 while the government was acquiring nickel at below market prices and also receiving Says Estes Arrest Didn't Stop Dept.

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., says that even after Billie Sol Estes was arrested "the Agriculture Department was still seeking methods by which concessions already granted to Estes could be legalized."

Mundt cited as evidence a department memorandum made public Wednesday by the Senate Investigations subcommittee.

A House Government Operations subcommittee released testimony by an ousted Agriculture Department employee, linking the names of several congressmen to Estes.

Both the Senate and House groups have been trying to determine if the Pecos, Tex. promoter benefitted from political influence in building a now-bankrupt empire on federal farm aid programs.

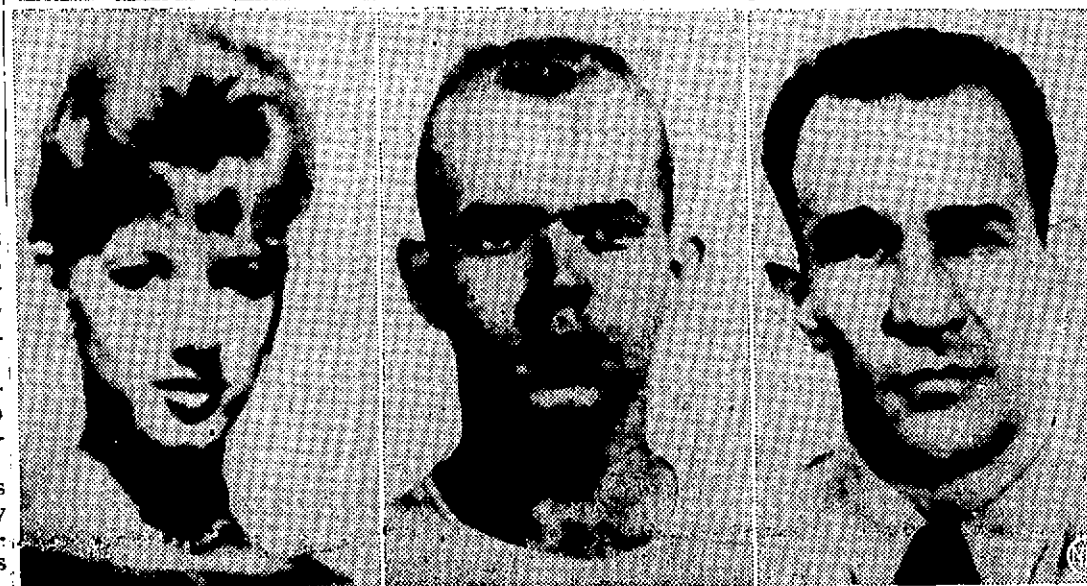

John C. Bagwell, the Agriculture Department's general counsel, told the Senate subcommittee Wednesday that a last-ditch effort was made last spring to legalize farm aid cotton acreage allotment deals similar to those of Estes.

The Texan already had been arrested on federal and Texas fraud and theft charges. He now is awaiting trial.

Bagwell acknowledged he had written the memo, approving a proposal to bring new third parties and new money into three cotton deals. He said the maneuver could not have helped Estes even if it had worked and that he never suspected Estes was behind the proposal.

Besides, Bagwell said, Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman vetoed the proposal. A week later the department cancelled the allotments for Estes and others and levied heavy penalties for overplanting.

Mundt said the memo showed the department was trying to find a way for Estes to be allowed to keep the allotments.

SUSPECTS — FOUR BANDITS, ARMED with machine guns, hijacked a mail truck in Plymouth, Mass., and fled with near $2-million. The loot is probably the largest cash robbery in the nation's history, exceeding the $1,210,000 Brink's robbery in Boston in 1950. Authorities said the method used is similar to that used by Albert Musbaum, center, of Buffalo, N. Y., and Bobby Wilcoxon, right, of Duke, Okla. Both men have been seen in the area, and are reported to be traveling with Jacqueline Rose, left. — NEA Telephoto

Bohlen Named Envoy to France

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's nomination of Charles E. (Chip) Bohlen to be ambassador to France and of Foy D. Kohler to be ambassador to the Soviet Union were approved today by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

The committee also approved these other nominations:

William R. Tyler, also a career officer, to succeed Kohler as assistant secretary of state for European affairs.

John H. Ferguson, Washington lawyer, to be ambassador to Morocco.

William Leonhart of West Virginia to be ambassador to Tanganyika.

Bernard T. Brennan of New York to be deputy administrator for administration of the Agency for International Development.

Thalidomide Kills Baby in England

CHESTERFIELD, England (AP)—A coroner ruled today that the death of a 5-month-old "thalidomide baby" was caused by asphyxia and said thalidomide, a sedative, was the cause.

Dr. Maurice Lecutier, a medical expert, testified at an inquest that the mother took thalidomide early in her pregnancy and that the child was born limbless. But the death, he said, was caused by the infant inhaling food from its stomach. There was a marked narrowing of the small intestine and as a result regurgitation of food and milk occurred almost instantly.

The baby, Wilfred Shaw, died last week. It was the first child of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Shaw of Eckington, Derbyshire.

According to one medical authority, R. W. Smithells, of Alder Hey Children's Hospital at Liverpool, approximately 1,200 thalidomide babies were born in England and Wales in the period from January 1960 to August 1962. He stated that about 600 are still alive.

Smithells's statement was made in a letter to the British Medical Association's Journal on July 21.

The Ministry of Health said it had no valid figures on the number of thalidomide babies and that estimates ranged from 300 to 1,400. The ministry said that prior to the introduction of thalidomide, 100 to 200 cases of congenitally malformed babies were reported per year.

Three Fires But Damage Small

Firemen made three runs here yesterday but only damage resulted.

The home of E. D. Wilson escaped damage about 6:30 p. m. when a waste basket caught fire from a match tossed into it. The home is located on N. Walker Street.

At 12:30 p. m. firemen were called to 821 Nancy Street to put out a cook stove fire caused by a line leak. There was very little damage, and at 1:35 p. m. firemen had to put out a grass fire at Elm and Ave. G.

Prints Found on Car Used in Robbery

BOSTON (AP) — Police uncovered three fingerprints on a burned automobile today as a widespread manhunt was set up for the white-gloved bandits who robbed a mail truck of $1.5 million in historic Plymouth Tuesday night.

Sgt. Joseph Leonard, one of a team of crack Boston detectives working on the case, found the prints on a trunk of the car. The automobile belonged to a suburban Revere man who reported it stolen on June 12.

Police attached significance to the car because it contained four road signs similar to one used by the gangsters in the hold-up on Route 3 in Plymouth. The signs have been turned over to the Post Office Department.

State troopers, police, the FBI and a squad of postal inspectors have set up a round-the-clock manhunt for the smooth-working gang that pulled off the biggest cash haul in the nation's history.

Police have broadcast an alarm for five men and a woman. Descriptions were vague. Two of the men were called "Tony" and "Buster."

The team of investigators is under the direction of Chief Postal Inspector Henry B. Montague, 50, head of the nation's oldest investigation service. The Post Office Department boasts a record of 99 per cent convictions for crimes involving the mails. Montague flew from Washington to take charge.

Washington promised to send the entire force of 1,000 inspectors if they are needed.

Meanwhile, Chief of Detectives Capt. Michael J. Cullinane of the Massachusetts State Police said, "We have been working together all night checking out various reports."

The driver of the mail truck and the lone guard came to Boston to help make up composite pictures of the robbers.

Police plan a patient, exhausting use of plastic slides, each with a facial feature. They will be assembled one after another until the composite resembles a face which the victims feel resembles a robber.

This will be a basis of "wanted" bulletins to be spread around the country.

Although the estimated $1.5 million loot exceeded that of the 1950 Brink's robbery as the nation's biggest cash haul, the amount stolen might have been even greater.

Unionists Battle Among Themselves

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Appo-lice-estimated crowd of 1,000 rival Teamsters Union members, many armed with baseball bats, bricks and bottles, battled Wednesday night in the streets in a wild melee.

Two police officers and 12 of the crowd were injured, windshields of autos were smashed, two cars overturned and windows broken. Three bullet holes were found in the union office's front window.

Police, Fairmount Park guards, firemen and highway patrolmen were ordered into the area at Front and Spring Garden streets. They forced the men to opposite sides of the streets and set up a cordon of cars and men to hold them apart. Bottles, clubs, stones and sticks continued to fly.

About half an hour after the melee began, officers, aided by police dogs, brought the situation under control.

Police arrested two men on charges of disorderly conduct and resisting arrest.

The disturbance capped a day of tension between Teamsters Local 107 members and members of a dissident group which calls itself the Voice of Local 107.

The Voice seeks to oust local leadership, faithful to the Teamsters international president, James J. Hoffa, and to quit the union to join the AFL-CIO.

The disturbance Wednesday night was started when some 200 dissidents were pushed back by police from a picket line at the Smith Transfer Co., where they were protesting the replacement of Voice Drivers by men loyal to the local leadership.

Land Owned by the Wrong City

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The City of North Little Rock has learned that its Central Fire Station is on land owned by the City of Little Rock.

North Little Rock asked Little Rock Wednesday to hand over a deed to the land.

Three members of the Little Rock City Manager Board made no commitment, but ordered it placed on the agenda meeting for the meeting Monday.

North Little Rock tried to sell the land and learned Little Rock had owned it since Dec. 13, 1894.

Water Project Is Authorized

WASHINGTON (AP)—A 13-year $170 million project to tunnel through the Rocky Mountains in Colorado and channel water from the western to the eastern slopes was authorized formally today.

President Kennedy signed into law a bill authorizing the Frying Pan-Arkansas Reclamation and Power Project, passed by Congress this year after eight years of controversy.

A series of dams and tunnels, including a 3.3-mile bore through granite, will provide eastern Colorado with water for irrigation, municipal supplies and electric power production. Congress will be asked to provide some money this year to start the work.

In signing the bill, Kennedy called it a sound investment in the future of Colorado and the nation and predicted it would yield rich dividends in the years to come.

Humphrey Says

"income taxes from the Hanna nickel operation of $3.2 million, withholding taxes of $2 million for Hanna nickel employees and approximately $7 million for power from the Bonneville Dam."

Another big plus factor in the arrangement, Humphrey said, was the creation of the only U.S. facility for producing nickel.

"The government's total net outlay to accomplish this is the acquisition of the 96-million-pound inventory at a cost per pound less than the present market price, with every cent of additional government expenditure fully repaid with interest," he said.

Humphrey said the deal that launched the nickel mine at Riddle, Ore., was negotiated under the Harry Truman administration. He said it was completed a few days before he took office in the Eisenhower administration, and was peanuts in comparison with a very much larger project, embracing the building of the $300-million development of iron mines in Quebec and Labrador on which he was working at the time.

He said the government advanced some $25.6 million to get the project going and has been repaid the whole amount, plus 5 per cent interest.

The total net outlay by the government, he testified, was $67.2 million, which comes to 71 cents a pound for 94.7 million pounds of nickel.

He gave the market price of nickel at 75 to 77 cents per pound. If Hanna hadn't provided the nickel, he said, the only alternative would have been to go to Cuba or Canada.

Under the contracts the Hanna company developed a nickel mine at Riddle, Ore., which produced and delivered ore to the government at a price of $6 or more

Celebration in Russia Over Flights

By PRESTON GROVER

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union's twin astronauts were flown today from their point of landing in Kazakhstan to another base closer to Moscow to make a detailed report on their work and life in outer space.

A correspondent for the Soviet news agency Tass who accompanied them said doctors who examined Maj. Andrian Nikolayev and Lt. Col. Pavel Popovich found their condition "excellent, excellent."

Nikolayev and Popovich landed six minutes apart Wednesday in hill and desert country about 1,500 miles southeast of Moscow. Nikolayev had been circling the globe for nearly four days, Popovich for nearly three.

"I was amazed by Andrian Nikolayev's self-possession," said a doctor who examined the astronauts soon after they stepped from their spaceships.

"He looked cheerful, smiled. In fact, he was as unperturbed as if he never had been into space. His physical condition is excellent."

The Tass report said the two heroes were besieged by journalists, photographers and radio correspondents asking hundreds of questions. Tass reported them "tireless and in high spirits."

Their new destination was not given. Preparations were under way in Moscow for a mammoth welcome—expected this weekend—in Red Square.

Brush Fire Out

CLAREMONT, Calif. (AP) — A brush fire which officials say was touched off by an arsonist has been contained after burning 2,200 acres in the hills above Claremont.

About 400 residents were permitted to return to their homes in the Palmer Canyon and Padua Hills areas Wednesday.

A separate wholly owned Hanna subsidiary smelting company was set up to process this ore at cost, with the government paying some $22.3 million for the plant, and a guaranteed price per pound for the nickel it produced.

Near the completion of the contract, the Hanna interest acquired this smelter for $1.7 million last year with government witnesses placing its current value at around $19 million.

These same witnesses testified that Hanna mining earned more than $15 million gross profits—and more than $10 million of net profit—in the 1954-61 period on the nickel ore production.

They also said a shift of all profits from the smelter to mining company permitted depletion allowances of more than $5 million and resulting tax benefits of some $1.2 million.

Sworn testimony about destruction of "checks and invoices" in the Hanna offices in Cleveland came from Walter H. Henson, a general accounting office supervisor.

Henson said the records were destroyed last February and March, after the stockpile investigation began. He said they dealt with the nickel negotiations and contracts for 1952 through 1955.

In Cleveland Wednesday, W. A. Martin, president of Hanna mining, termed this testimony a "deliberate misconstruction of the facts."

No Comment on Rift in Labor Ranks

CHICAGO (AP)—Published reports of a rift between top AFL-CIO leaders George Meany and Walter Reuther drew a brusque "no comment" today from their spokesman.

AFL-CIO President Meany and Reuther, vice president of the huge labor organization and head of the United Auto Workers, were closeted in a morning session of the AFL-CIO Executive Council.

A spokesman for the labor leaders snapped "no comment" when asked about reports of a feud between Meany and Reuther over administrative powers of the Executive Council.

The spokesman repeatedly refused either to confirm or deny a New York Times story that Meany and Reuther argued heatedly Tuesday night at a private meeting.

The newspaper said that Meany called Reuther a liar several times and Reuther threatened to resign as vice president of the merged labor group.

"While no one attending the quarterly meeting of the Executive Council believed that the strained relations threatened labor unity, most were agreed that they impaired the effectiveness of the federation at a crucial point," the newspaper said.

"The way the two camps see the issues that divide them is this: 'The old CIO men feel that Meany is trying to exercise a veto power over appointments and policy decisions without regard for past practices, traditions and personal sensibilities.'"

The immediate cause of Tuesday's stormy session, the Times said, was Reuther's insistence that Ralph Helstein, president of the United Packing House Union, be selected to fill a vacancy on the 29-man Executive Council. Helstein would succeed Leland S. Buckmaster, former president of the United Rubber Workers, now retired.

Meany's position, the newspaper said, is that Helstein is not acceptable because of what he termed the packing house union's left-wing past.

Meany headed the AFL and Reuther the CIO before they merged.

Independents Can File by Sept. 7

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Secretary of State Nancy Hall said Wednesday the deadline for filing as an independent candidate in the November general election is Sept. 7.

In order to file, she said, a candidate for a state office must obtain signatures of 15 per cent of the number of persons who voted in the governor's race in the last general election.

There 421,965 persons who voted in the gubernatorial race in the 1960 general election. Fifteen per cent of that number would be 3,290 signatures.

Mrs. Hall said she had received several inquiries from persons interested in seeking office as independent candidates.

We Made It!

I couldn't be prouder of I'd pushed the button that sent the Telstar satellite into orbit.

As you probably know by now, Telstar is the Bell System's new communications satellite. It acts as a sort of moving microwave relay tower in space, receiving signals from earth, amplifying them, and then transmitting them back to the ground.

Everyone at the telephone company had his (or her) fingers crossed that Telstar would be successful. After all, that little 170-pound ball across a whole new world of communication possibilities. Voices, television pictures and data messages are now leaping thousands of miles across the ocean between the United States and Europe.

It Wasn't Easy

Sitting back and reflecting on the many developments that made Telstar possible, these three things came to mind:

1. Since the end of World War II the Bell System has spent over $1 billion for research and development in fields pertinent to satellite communications.

2. Communications by satellite would be impossible without six Bell System contributions — the transmitter, the solar battery, the traveling wave tube, the radio masts, the waveguide, and new antennas for the ground stations.

3. The Bell System paid the National Aeronautics and Space Administration for the entire cost of launching Telstar. No one got a free ride.

I could go on and on about Telstar. It's certainly a great new development — but I'll just make one more comment:

It's a good feeling to know that the company you work for is never satisfied with anything but the best. I'm convinced that if there's ever a better way of providing communications — we'll do it.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

Miss Brenda Mitchell
Bride-Elect, Honored

Miss Brenda Mitchell, bride-elect of Glenn William Calhoun, Jr., was entertained with a lingerie shower at the home of Miss Violet Tommemaker on Tuesday night, Aug. 14. Co-hostesses were Misses Darlene Brader, Nita Messer and Valdene Tommemaker.

The honoree, wearing a gold tinted dress with matching accessories, was presented a corsage of white carnations. After the game, directed by Nita Messer, the honoree was presented her gifts of lingerie.

The guests were then invited into the dining room where the table was overlaid with a lace cloth and centered with a bouquet of white stock. On each side of the bouquet were crystal candleholders holding white candles. Cookies, punch, nuts and mints were served to those present.

Miss Virginia Ann Hays Feted
 Miss Virginia Ann Hays of Prescott, bride-elect of James Buttry of Jonesboro was feted with a tea Tuesday, August 14 by Mrs. Sam W. Strong and Miss Carolyn Strong at their home.

The honoree was attired in a pink lace sheath and had a corsage of pink rosebuds. Upon their arrival, the guests were introduced to the guest of honor, her mother, Mrs. Jess Hays, and her grandmother, Mrs. E. M. Sharp. Throughout the living room pink roses were used in tasteful arrangements. Zinnias in red and gold tones were used at vantage points in the family room.

Mrs. Al Williams and Mrs. Lloyd Spencer served pink ice cream, punch, and dainty cakes from a table decorated in a pink and white color scheme. A pink cloth was overlaid with white organdy caught up in swags with a maline bow centered with pink asters. A white epergne filled with pink carnations and asters, leather-leaf foliage, and topped with a ceramic cupid made the centerpiece.

The hostesses presented Miss Hays a gift of silver in her chosen pattern. About 40 guests called during the afternoon.

Lloyd-Case

Replic's Wedding Vows
 Miss Cherry Case became the bride of Jimmy Ray Lloyd in a double ring ceremony performed at 6 p. m., Friday, August 10, in the First Methodist Church. Miss Case is the daughter of Mrs. Joy R. Case of Hope and D. V. Case of St. Petersburg, Fla., and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Lloyd of Hope. Rev. Rufus F. Sorrells officiated at the ceremony.

Two floor baskets of white gladiolus and daisies marked the place of ceremony. Magnolia leaves adorned the altar rail and completed the background on the choir rail. Seven branched candelabra holding white cathedral tapers and entwined with English ivy added to the beautiful simplicity. Candles were lighted by Miss Diane Ellis and Jackie Lloyd.

Mr. Luther Hollamon, organist, presented a program of nuptial music and accompanied Miss Suzanne Boath as she sang "Song of Ruth" and "With This Ring."

Escorted by Raymond Bright of Conway, the bride wore a floor-length dress of rose pattern Chantilly lace over satin. The fitted bodice of lace was fashioned with a deep cut neckline in scallops. The long fitted sleeves formed lily points over the hands. The full skirt of lace featured a cascade of alternate pleated tulle and lace from the waist to the hemline in back, ending in a chapel-length train. Her fingertip veil was attached to a seed pearl and crystal tiara. She carried a cascade bouquet of fleur de amour centered with a white orchid.

Miss Cary Joy Case, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Misses Nena Walton, Millie Flowers and Virginia Bowden were bridesmaids. They wore identical dresses of yellow silk organza with scooped neckline, softly draped midriff which dipped in center front and back over a belted skirt. The smooth bodice featured a soft rose of organza. They wore yellow silk organza headpieces and carried baskets of daisies.

Steve Lloyd, father of the groom, served as best man. Jackie Lloyd, Ronnie Edwards, Charles Howard and John Crain were ushers.

The brides mother wore a dress of champagne organza and lace, with matching accessories and a brown Cymbidium orchid. The grooms mother wore a dress of rose beige with matching accessories and a white gladiolus.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church basement. The brides table was covered with a white taffeta cloth caught at the corners with English ivy and satin bells. The table was centered with a three tiered wedding cake encircled with ivy and daisies. The bridesmaids baskets of daisies were used on the table.

Misses Laura Adams and Andrea Anthony served the cake and punch. Assisting were Misses Sue Lowder, Suzanne Somerville, Mary Gayle McKee, Penny Franks, Mrs. Ronnie Edwards and Bettie Duncan. Miss Bettie Rateliff was in charge of the brides book. Mrs. Byron Hefner introduced the guest to the receiving line which included the wedding couple, their parents and wedding party.

For travel the bride wore a beige silk suit with black accessories. Her corsage was the white orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Miss Syble Putman To Wed

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Putman announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Syble Ann Putman to Joe Matt Herndon, son of Rufus Herndon, Jr., and the late Mrs. Herndon, all of Hope.

The wedding will be an event of Friday, August 17 at 6 at the First Baptist Church with Rev. Gordon Renshaw performing the ceremony.

Wesleyan Service Guild 1 Meets

The Wesleyan Service Guild 1 of the First Methodist Church met Monday, evening, Aug. 13, in the home of Mrs. J. W. Patterson, with Mrs. Pansy Plumley as co-hostess. Mrs. Glenice Porter, President presided, and Mrs. J. W. Perkins opened the meeting with prayer. A report from the Secretary-Treas, Mrs. Buel Holt was heard. Mrs. Roy Stephenson, program leader brought a most interesting program on "Americans of Spanish Speaking Background." She was ably assisted by Mrs. J. W. Perkins, Mrs. Glenice Porter, and Mrs. John Wilson.

Delicious frosted punch and cookies were served to 12 members and 2 guests: Miss Elsie Weisenberger, Houston, Texas, and Mrs. Grady Williams of Hope.

W. S. C. S. Has Union Meeting

Union meeting of the W. S. C. S. was held at the First Methodist Church Monday, August 13 at 9:30 a. m. The president, Mrs. E. P. Young, Jr., presided over the business. During this time an announcement was made of the District Seminar on Missionary Education and Youth Work to be held in Hope at the church, Sept. 7. The devotional was given by Mrs. Manney.

Mrs. Johnny Green was in charge of the program "Americans of Spanish speaking background," which was given in dialogue by the following: Mrs. Fred Glanton, Mrs. Wade Benefield and Mrs. Bill Reinhardt.

Builders Bible Class Has Meeting

The Builders Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church met for a covered dish supper in the Educational Building, Aug. 14 at 7:00. Beautiful arrangements of shasta daisies, zinnias, cactus, and greenery centered the serving table. Mrs. George Balentine gave the invocation.

After a delicious supper Mrs. Mable Bramlett brought an inspiring devotional on "Acts of Love and Kindness." The classes separated to have their business. The Ruth and Friendship Class were special guests, also out of town guest was Mrs. Ruby Owen Case, a former member of the Ruth class. Miss. Roy Seewald and Mrs. O. F. Lloyd were co-hostess. Mrs. W. T. Baber Teachers of Ruth class voiced the closing prayer. There were 23 attending.

Dodgers Again Lose, History Could Repeat

By JIM BECKER

Associated Press Sports Writer.

Today is an anniversary that is marked in the city of Los Angeles with considerably less enthusiasm than is displayed on holidays or even Walter O'Malley's birthday.

When this day dawned exactly a year ago, the Dodgers were in first place in the National League for the last time in the season, and all was not well.

And when Aug. 1, 1961, was over, the Cincinnati Reds had shut out the Dodgers twice to complete a three-game sweep and take over first place.

When the returns were in, the Dodgers had gone 26 innings without a run and had lost four straight. They went on to lose 10 in a row.

Anything sound familiar? Well, the Dodgers lost their fifth straight Wednesday night, 3-6 to the Pittsburgh Pirates, as their fielding collapsed and their big hitter, Tommy Davis, went hitless for the third straight game.

And the Reds trimmed the Milwaukee Braves 4-3, behind Bob Purkey, who won his 16th. Frank Robinson drove in three runs with two homers and took over the league batting lead with a .342 mark.

The San Francisco Giants remained 1½ games back in second as they dropped a 7-5 decision to the Chicago Cubs.

The St. Louis Cardinals dropped their second straight to the Houston Colts 3-1. And the Philadelphia Phils trimmed the Mets in a doubleheader, 9-3 and 8-7 in 13 innings.

In the American League, the first-place New York Yankees beat Minnesota 9-3, the second-place Los Angeles Angels edged Boston 5-4, Detroit defeated Baltimore 3-1, Kansas City belted Washington, 9-4 and Chicago and Cleveland split, the White Sox winning 10-2 before the Indians won 10-2.

The Pirates jumped on Don Drysdale for five runs in the first three innings, with Bob Clemente and Bill Mazeroski contributing key blows. Drysdale lost his sixth. Bob Friend (13-11) was the winner.

Wally Moon and Willie Davis homered for all the Dodger runs. Moon's came with a man on.

The Cubs snapped a five-game San Francisco winning streak, as Dick Bortelli's bloop single with the bases loaded in the seventh inning broke a 5-5 tie. Willie Mays' 37th homer with a man on, followed by Matty Alou's homer in the third built a 5-2 Giant lead.

Purkey's 18th was a career high. He had a shutout until the ninth, when a walk and three singles scored two runs and brought on Jim Brosnan in relief.

Hal Smith and Carl Warwick hit solo homers for the Colts. Hal Woodeshick lost his shutout in the ninth when Bill White, Minnie Minoso and Julio Gotay hit singles, but Russ Kemmerer appeared in relief and threw just one pitch to pinch hitter Stan Musial who grounded into a double play to end the game.

The Phils and the Mets used up seven hours and 48 minutes, not counting the intermission, in playing 22 innings. The Phils were paced by two homers by Don Demeter and one by Johnny Callison good for a total of six runs, in the opener.

In the nightcap, Manager Casey Stengel sent Clarence "Choo Choo" Coleman up to pinch hit in the fourth inning and he hit a two-run homer. In the sixth, trailing 7-4, he sent Jim Hickman up to hit for Coleman and Hickman tied the score with a three-run home run. In the 13th, Callison blooped a double to left to drive in the winner.

Alonzo Stagg Is 100 Years Old Today

By HAROLD V. STREETER

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP)— Gentleman Alonzo Stagg, born seven years before the first college football game was played in America, crossed a coveted goal today.

While-haired Stagg, whose University of Chicago players called him "the old man" at 40, who coached football for 70 years, then almost apologized when he stepped down at 90, is now 100 years old.

Acclaim poured in from President Kennedy, from prominent persons in all sports fields, and from some of the thousands of his boys who were taught that football games can be won with clean play and strict adherence to the rules.

Cubans Told to Behave at Games

KINGSTON, Jamaica (AP)— Pence reigned, at least temporarily, in the troubled Central American and Caribbean games today after the Cuban entrants got a stern warning to behave or be barred.

Gen. Jesus Clark Flores of Mexico, a member of the International Olympic Committee and a representative of Olympic Committee Chairman Avery Brundage of the U.S. expressed regrets over Tuesday's free-for-all between Cuban and Puerto Rican spectators at a Cuba-Puerto Rico Baseball game.

He said the Cubans were warned that further incidents could result in them being barred from future Olympic or regional competition. He did not say, however, that the Cubans were to blame for the Tuesday incident. Gerardo Gonzales, head of the Cuban delegation, told a meeting of the Olympics committee he would do all he could to avert further disturbances.

"It must not happen again," he said. Venezuela's crack baseball team trounced Mexico 5-0 Wednesday, but the favored, well-rounded Mexican team continued to dominate the Games with six gold medals, including Alfredo Guzman's swimming.

New League Going in for Defense

By JACK CLARY Associated Press Sports Writer

Is the American Football League all of a sudden getting defensive-minded?

If the scores of the early exhibition games are a criterion, there has been a definite swing away from the wild and woolly, free-throwing, pass-happy games of the past two years.

Now, things have taken a reverse swing with all of the clubs except champion Houston, which has the loop's most potent offense—one that has taken it through 13 straight games since last season without a loss. Houston has scored 33 points in its two exhibition victories this year.

Latest testament to emphasis on defense was Boston's narrow 12-7 victory over the Buffalo Bills before 22,112 fans in Buffalo Thursday. It took a pair of last period field goals by Gino Cappelletti of the Patriots to nail down the victory after Boston's defense had held the Bills scoreless through three periods.

Only the New York Titans have been able to average three touchdowns a game, scoring 37 points in their two losses. Among the other teams which have played twice, Boston has averaged 16, Buffalo 14, Oakland 12 and Dallas 6. Denver and San Diego each scored 17 in their only outing.

It is doubtful if things will be as quiet in Washington tonight when the Baltimore Colts meet the Washington Redskins in a National Football League exhibition. The Colts manhandled the Eagles 56-28 last Saturday night while Washington was being drubbed by Los Angeles 37-7.

Tresh Homers, Yanks Add to American Lead

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

It must be the nickname because even Uncle Sam's helping the Yankees.

And the helping hand came just in time for Tom Tresh, switch-hitting shortstop for the world champion New Yorkers who's suddenly turned into a homer hammerer and continued his bid for Rookie of the Year honors in the American League.

Tresh got the first-place Yankees rolling to a 9-3 triumph over third-place Minnesota Wednesday night with a two-run homer in the fifth inning—his 15th of the season and his fifth in the last four games with the Twins over an eight-day stretch.

The key day for Tresh was Aug. 7 when shortstop Tony Kubek, released from the Army, made his return to the Yankee lineup as an outfielder. Kubek stood ready to step in at short should Tresh, tired and worn by his first major league campaign, continue to falter.

But Tresh did an immediate about face, slugged two homers in that first game with the Twins, and has been riddling opposing pitchers since. He's hitting .373 against the Twins and .278 against the league with the 15 homers and 5 runs batted in.

Bill Skowron also homered for the Yankees while Ralph Terry posted his 17th victory with a seven-hitter and maintained the leaders' six-game edge over runner-up Los Angeles Angels, who edged Boston 5-4. The Twins now are 7½ back.

Elsewhere in the AL, the Chicago White Sox split a doubleheader with Cleveland, winning 10-2 before losing 3-2, Detroit beat Baltimore 3-1 and Kansas City made it 12 in a row over Washington with an 8-4 triumph.

In the National League, Pittsburgh knocked off the first-place Los Angeles Dodgers 6-3, the Chicago Cubs topped second-place San Francisco 7-5, Cincinnati beat Milwaukee 4-3, Houston defeated St. Louis 3-1 and Philadelphia beat New York's Mets twice, 9-3 and 8-7 in 13 innings.

The Angels pulled out to a 4-0 lead against Red Sox starter Don Schwall (6-13) in the first inning, then scored the deciding run in the fourth on an error. Pitcher Dan Osinski (3-1), who came on when Lu Clinton's homer helped chase Los Angeles starter Bo Welnjisky, got credit for the victory.

The White Sox, shut out on three hits for eight innings in the opener, exploded for 10 runs in the ninth before the Indians could get an out. Al Smith had two hits in the inning as the White Sox wrapped it up for Don Zanni (6-4) and tagged Gary Bell (9-9) with the loss. Jim Perry (9-9) beat Early Wynn (6-9), in a battle of six-hitters in the second game.

Hank Aguirre (10-5) allowed the one run on a homer by Jerry Adair while posting his third triumph against Baltimore. The Tigers got only five hits off Robin Roberts (7-6) in seven innings.

Home runs by Jerry Lumpe and Bobby Del Greco staked the Athletics to a 3-0 lead in the first two innings and they continued to pile it up with a 12-hit offensive. Don Lock and Ken Hamlin homered for the Senators. The victory went to Dan Pfister (3-9) with Dave Stenhouse (10-8) the loser.

Farm Group to Visit 5 States

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Two busloads of Arkansas farmers will leave Little Rock next Monday to see how their counterparts in five other states operate their county farm bureaus.

The trip, to cover over 1,000 miles, includes stops at Memphis, Jackson and Paris, Tenn.; Hopkinsville, Ky.; Vincennes, Ind.; Champaign, Lexington, Bloomington, Springfield, Greenville and Edwardsville, Ill.; and St. Louis, Mo.

The Arkansas Farm Bureau Federation is sponsoring the trip in cooperation with the American Farm Bureau and county and state organizations in Tennessee, Kentucky, Indiana and Illinois.

Waldo Frasier, Arkansas Farm Bureau executive vice president, said about 5 persons are going on the trip. Frasier said first stops will be at Hazen and Marion.

Pro and Con on Pre-season Grid Games

By JACK CLARY Associated Press Sports Writer

Do pre-season pro football games lack incentive?

It all depends on what side of the fence you sit, or better still, who was your last employer. That's where Lou Saban stands tonight when his Buffalo Bills play the Boston Patriots in Buffalo, N.Y., in an American Football League exhibition.

Saban was fired by the Patriots after five games last year. The Pats, under new coach Mike Holovak, went on to win seven and tie one of their last nine games.

Now Saban is back again, with a Buffalo club figured as the top choice to unseat eastern division and league champion Houston, and a little nose-rubbing before the season begins wouldn't be without some bit of pleasure.

The Bills originally were booked for three exhibition games within seven days, but a game this Saturday night in Atlanta against New York, whom they beat 21-10 last Sunday, has been cancelled.

Saban now must take a double look at some rookies and newcomers who will be without competition for at least another week. He has indicated that Booker Edgerton of Western Illinois State and Carl Chadron of Michigan State, a pair of rookies who sparked against the Titans last week, will start in the defensive backfield.

He will start Warren Rabb, former Louisiana State star, at quarterback in his plan to alternate him with John Green, and has put Elbert Dubenion back in his old flanker post.

Holovak, still looking for a third defensive tackle and strength at offensive center, will stay with veteran Babe Parilli as the No. 1 quarterback, and also has rookie Billy Neighbors, an All-America tackle last year at Alabama, and guard Nick Buonoconti, a rookie from Notre Dame, in his lineup.

The two rookies turned in good jobs in a 21-20 loss to Oakland last Saturday.

The Cleveland Browns also may put a rookie in Bill Glass' defensive end spot and at left end on offense when they meet Pittsburgh in the second game of the

Apparently All Races Are Settled

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas voters wound up a hot political summer by naming Kelly Bryant of Hope secretary of state and selecting several district, county and local officers.

Bryant beat the reluctant Milton Willis of Van Buren 107,394 to 62,982 votes in the secretary of state race, the only statewide event on Tuesday's Democratic runoff primary ballot.

A total of 1,664 of the 1,799 precincts had been counted, and the remainder were scattered small precincts in 29 counties — not enough to change the outcome.

It was a surprisingly strong showing for Willis, who tried to pull out of the race after Bryant led him by 40,000 votes in the first primary.

All other state races were settled in the first primary July 31, when Gov. Orval E. Faubus won nomination to a fifth term. Actually, Bryant is only nominated for secretary of state, but he has no Republican opposition for this fall's election.

Willis carried 11 counties despite the fact that he said he was asking his friends to vote for Bryant. He said he didn't have funds to finance a runoff, and he wanted to save county Democratic committees the cost of a second primary where no other races were contested.

There were 41 such counties. Nine of them didn't bother to hold a runoff primary. The state Democratic Central Committee would not allow Willis to withdraw from the race, saying his name had to be on ballots. But state party secretary Leon Catlett said it was up to the county committees whether they wanted to hold the election.

There was no voting in Benton, Crittenden, Drew, Franklin, Lincoln, Lonoke, Marion, Mississippi exhibition twin-bill Saturday night in Cleveland.

Coach Paul Brown said that Frank Parker from Oklahoma State will replace Glass, who suffered a shoulder separation against Detroit last Saturday. Gary Collins of Maryland will be an offensive starter if a hand injury he incurred Tuesday doesn't worsen.

and Sharp counties.

Voting fell far short of the 200,000 votes predicted by the secretary of state's office. When all precincts report, the total probably will be less than 180,000.

Bryant won by less than 2 to 1, but Willis said he didn't think things would have been different even if he had waged a runoff campaign.

"Kelly had all the strength," he said, "and all I would have accomplished was to go deep into debt to finance a runoff campaign."

Joe Woodward of Magnolia, who trailed Marshall Shackleford of El Dorado in the first primary 13th District prosecutor's race, made a comeback in the runoff and beat Shackleford, 10,949 to 8,922, with 109 of 115 precincts reported in Ouachita, Calhoun, Columbia and Union counties.

State Sen. Roy A. Riales of Mena was unseated in the runoff by Nathan B. Coulter of Nashville, 5,247 to 4,471, with all 11 precincts reported in Polk, Howard, Sevier and Little River counties. They comprise the 13th Senatorial District.

Carl E. Sorrels of Atkins overcame a first primary deficit and beat L. L. (Doc) Bryan of Russellville, 5,189 to 4,753, with 80 of 83 precincts reported in the 10th Senatorial District which includes Pope, Conway and Perry counties.

Bryan carried Pope and Perry counties but fell, 2,334 to 943, in Conway County.

In the 13th Senatorial District, made up of Union County, Joe B. Hurley beat Joe L. Templeton, 5,056 to 4,742, with all 38 precincts reported. Both men are from El Dorado.

James W. Raney of Warren, who ran second in the first primary in the 11th Senatorial District, came back to beat Dub Wells of Hampton, 6,279 to 5,329, with all 109 precincts reported in the runoff. The district is composed of Grant, Dallas, Bradley, Cleveland and Calhoun counties.

Two sheriff races drew wide attention in the runoff. In each, the incumbent was beaten. Coroner Richard Birtcher beat Rudy Burgess in Miller County, 4,433 to 3,142, with all 52 precincts reported. Voting there was among the heaviest in the state.

STRIKE IT UNLUCK Y
By ESTHER LACY

Pointing to the blood-stained hotel bed, the chief of detectives told the homicide man, "The deceased's name was Ralph Parks, 67, a retired railroad man. Lived in the hotel for the last five years. He apparently awakened to find a thief in his room. The intruder smashed the old man's head with the table lamp, fled, leaving him for dead. But the old guy was tough, crawled over to that desk before he died."

"Mr. Parks was very spry for his age," Jake, the house dick, added.

"You can follow the trail," said the detective, gesturing to the stained carpet.

"What was in the desk?" Homicide asked.

"Nothing. Just a lot of letters on top of it. Parks pulled three of them down. We found them on the floor beside his hand. Hotel bill, a clothing store and, a lodge letter. Far as we know, letters have no connection with the killing. He might have been reaching for the phone on the desk, but I doubt it. The first blow from the lamp base landed on his mouth. He was hardly in any condition to talk."

Glancing around the room, the homicide man said, "and it would have been closer to try for the door, for help. I think Mr. Parks was trying to tell us something before he died, the name of the killer maybe. I understand there's been a series of petty robberies in this hotel over the last few months. That's usually an inside job. Obviously Parks recognized the thief or he wouldn't have been killed. Do the business names on the letters form any clue?"

"No sir," the precinct man said. "We thought of that too, but they don't add up to anything."

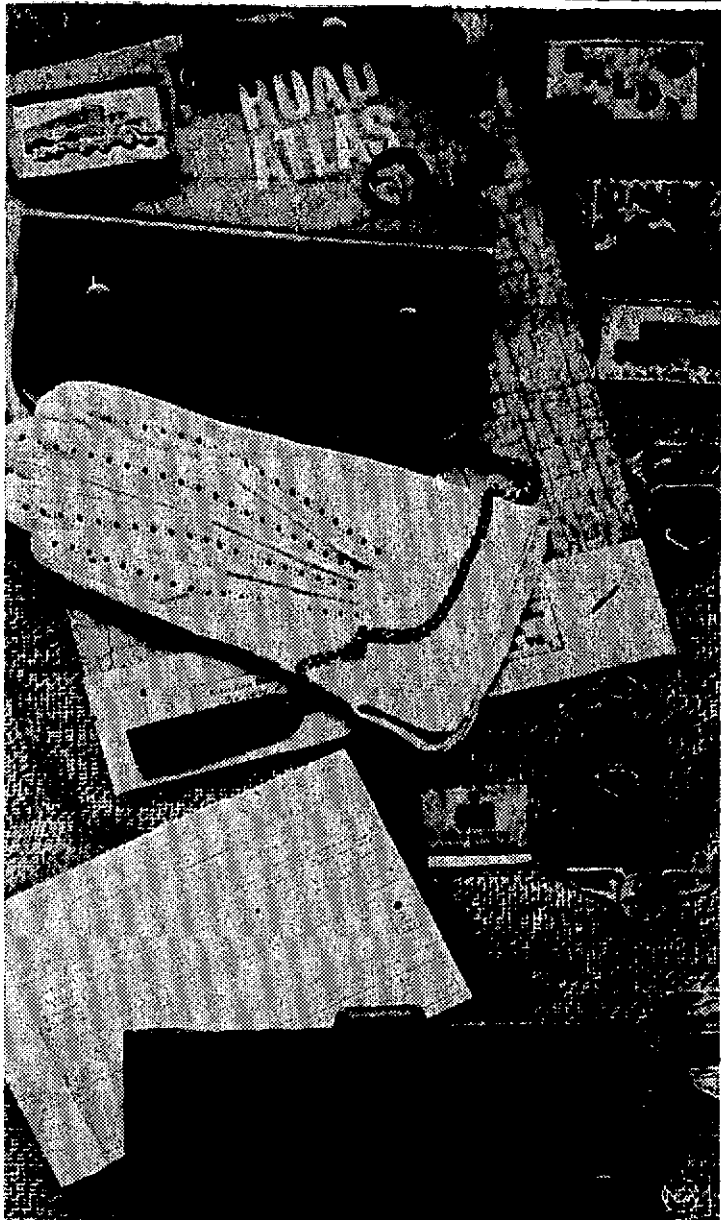

"About those other robberies," Jake, the house detective said. "We checked and double-checked all our employees, but didn't get even a hint. You understand a person could rent a room here, rob, and we'd have little chance of catching him. I mean, we can't go through everybody's luggage."

The lousy detective shook his head. Evidently the killer was frightened away before he had a chance to rob. Sneak thief stuff—door lock forced. We've checked on Parks. He had no money except his pension. No relatives, not many friends, and no known enemies. Of course we've gone over the room for prints but the killer wore gloves. Don't have anything working for us."

"Except a dying man dragged himself across the room to pull three letters down from the desk. Why only three?" Homicide asked. "Was he trying to tell us something?"

"Perhaps he crawled blindly toward the desk, just happened to pull the letters down as he died. They were on top of a burnt match—"

"A match? Homicide cut in. "A burnt match? Was the carpet burnt, or the letters?"

"No sir, There's an ash tray on the desk, match must have fallen off with the letters."

"Wait a second! How dumb can we get?" Homicide asked, almost shouting with excitement as he turned to the house dick.

"There's a cigarette and newspaper in the lobby. When you checked your employees on those thefts, did the guy running the stand check out okay?"

"Charlie? He's lame, wouldn't hurt a fly. Been here for years. He doesn't exactly work here, I mean, it's his concession, so we couldn't check him. What's he doing?"

"Did Charlie run his stand alone?"

"No. Has a young fellow called Joey, who comes in part-time."

"Let's have a talk with Joey!" Homicide snapped, making for the door. "I think Parks was telling us 'three on a match,' meaning cigarettes."

After he confessed and was being booked, Joey mumbled, "I didn't mean to kill the old guy, but he recognized me, so I had no choice. Since he's dead, how did you cops get wise to me?"

"Three on a match really was unlucky for you!" Homicide grunted.

Women Learn Fast the World Over

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—Bouncy little Barbara Saben, mayor of Uganda's capital, Kampala, recalls a memo she saw in 1947.

"It was from a backward part of the country," she says, "urging that women should not be tethered like goats in the sun."

From this unenviable status women in Uganda are moving steadily forward, Mrs. Saben said the other day, but they still have problems — recognition, education, bringing up children.

She was in this country to collect her two sons, Hugh, graduating from McGill University in Toronto with a bachelor of science degree, and Timothy, a journalism major at the University of Oregon.

She also talked about farming. In the rural areas seven-tenths of the agricultural work is done by women.

"Unless you get women to appreciate better agricultural methods you haven't achieved anything at all. A woman sitting at home on a shamba (a small peasant holding) may be told by a man what to do, but like women the world over, as soon as he turns his back she'll go back to doing the way she wants to."

Farm institutes don't take women, but the Young Women's Christian Association in which she's been active for years, is pioneering an agricultural extension program and carrying the courses to women in the villages.

It also is important to teach the women how to get better nutrition from what they grow, she believes. "They don't know how to feed a child," she says.

But the women are keen to learn, she says, and through all classes is sweeping the urge for recognition of their rights. Women want to play a part in the life of their country, which is going into independence this fall.

"But they say, you can't progress unless you carry the men with you. You can advance only in conjunction with men. They're jolly wise."

Key Catholic Church Figure to Visit U.S.

By GEORGE MCARTHUR

BEIUT (AP) — For the first time a patriarch of the Maronite Roman Catholic Church will visit the United States this month.

Patriarch Paul Meouchi, 60, will be received by President Kennedy in Washington and then tour the United States visiting his scattered flock—one of the most widely dispersed church groups existing today.

Comprised mainly of far-roaming Lebanese, traders through history, the Maronites are at once the pride and despair of their patriarch. "It's a joy to go anywhere in the world and be among your own people," he says, "but sometimes at home we wish them closer to us."

Although the Maronite Rite is identical in doctrine and the essentials of worship with the Roman Catholic Church, it has preserved a separate and definitely Lebanese identity. Maronites from Macao to Los Angeles look to the white-bearded patriarch in Lebanon as their leader, while recognizing the Pope as the ultimate church authority.

There are approximately 782,500 Maronites, about 125,000 of them living in the United States.

Although no patriarch in office has ever visited the United States before, Patriarch Meouchi was there as a priest from 1920 to 1934 and at the time became an American citizen. He reluctantly gave up his citizenship when ordered back to Lebanon. He said he felt his role required resuming Lebanese citizenship.

He would have preferred to maintain citizenship in both countries and feels "the United States should permit dual citizenship as many countries do."

"The United States was so free so fresh, it was a pleasure just talking to people," he recalls. "I had been quite prepared to finish my days there when I was ordered back."

At that time he was in Los Angeles, where he opened the first Maronite church. Shortly after his return to Lebanon he was made bishop of Tyre. He became patriarch in 1955.

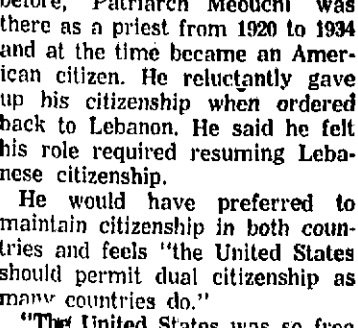

Finest at Fires

VIENNA (AP) — Persons who get nearer than 50 yards to a fire in the Austrian district of Eferding are now liable to a fine of up to $1,200.

District officials put a ban on fire buffs getting too close after most of Strohheim village burned to the ground because the fire engines couldn't get through the crowds.

Mess-Free Cook-Out

OUTDOOR COOKING and clean-up afterwards are mere child's play when new non-stick cookware is handy. Coatings based on Du Pont's "Teflon" fluorocarbon resins make pans so slick virtually no food clings to them—a real advantage on a fishing trip, a family outing, or any kind of cook-out.

To remove all traces of food in a jiffy, nothing's needed but a little water—along with a spot of detergent, if desired—and a paper towel. The angler anxious for a big catch after an early breakfast may simply dunk the pan in a stream, whisk away residue with his bare hand, and hang up the pan to dry. Using water from home, a different clean-up method is demonstrated by the young Scouts above.

Because they eliminate soaking and scouring and enable fat-free cooking, utensils coated with "Teflon" are already standard equipment in many a kitchen — including cookie pans, muffin tins, casseroles, roasters, and cake pans, as well as fry pans. Both indoors and out, non-stick cookware is fast becoming "must" equipment for every family.

Cook Engineer at Greer Dam

HEBER SPRINGS (AP)—E. Theodore S. Cook will become acting Greer's Ferry Dam resident engineer Aug. 20, it was announced by Col. Charles D. Maynard, district Army engineer.

Maynard said Tuesday Cook has been assistant resident engineer at the dam near Heber Springs since 1959. He replaces Lincoln F. Sherman, who is being transferred to the Dardanelle Lock and Dam, where he will become resident engineer.

El Dorado Turns Down Urban Plan

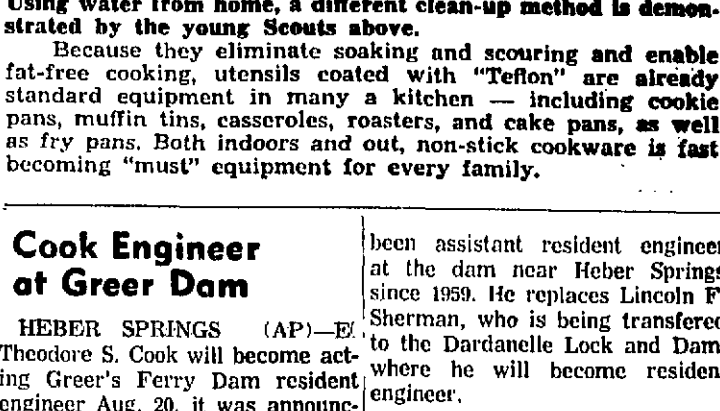

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — El Dorado voters rejected an urban renewal program in Tuesday's second Democratic primary.

The vote was 2,796 against the program to 2,562 in favor of it. The El Dorado City Council had voted for an urban renewal program earlier this summer. But a group called Citizens for Progress Without Federal Urban Renewal opposed the program.

Dictionary Habit Aids School Work

THE ABILITY TO COMMUNICATE CLEARLY is recognized as a prime aid to success in school and in careers later on. One of the proven ways for parents to help children enrich their vocabularies is to make a modern unabridged dictionary readily accessible to them in the family room, suggests Dr. Philip B. Gove, editor-in-chief of the Merriam-Webster dictionaries.

Parents who set an example by looking up words in the dictionary frequently and discussing the fine points of meaning with their children can work wonders in making the dictionary seem like an appealing family friend instead of an austere word doctor for emergency use only, says Dr. Gove.

Webster's Third New International Dictionary makes it easier than ever before to help children acquire the dictionary habit which can be an invaluable aid to their success throughout life. Quotations from distinguished contemporary writers and publications are used extensively by the new Merriam-Webster unabridged to point up the significance of fine differentiations in meaning, in addition to quotations from classical sources.

Altogether 200,000 quotations illuminate the fine points of usage. The 450,000 entries in the newest Webster include 100,000 new words and new word meanings. This explosion of language has added enormously to the problems of effective communication and makes "getting the dictionary habit" more important than ever.

It didn't work out that way. The Russians still figured to be out in

U. S. Used to Being Beaten by Russians

By JAMES MARLOW
Association Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—There's some benefit from running second if you run long enough. You get used to being disappointed. Americans are getting used to being beaten by the Russians in space.

This explains why the American reaction to the latest Soviet achievement—two men in orbit at once—is far more restrained than it was, say, in 1957 when the Russians first moved out in front.

That year they startled the world by putting the first satellite, Explorer, into orbit. Several senators demanded an investigation at once. One called it a devastating blow to American prestige.

But a Wisconsin Republican, Sen. Alexander Wiley, seemed to sum up the national feeling best. He said: "Facts are facts. Someone has goofed."

A second shock came a month later when the Russians put a dog in orbit. Animal lovers protested. Future historians, though, may be puzzled why no one protested later when men were put in orbit.

when on Jan. 31, 1958, this country put its first satellite, Explorer, into orbit. But a Washington Democrat, Sen. Henry Jackson, warned it was not time to be smug or complacent.

It was a wise thought. A year later, Jan. 2, 1959, the Russians sent another satellite, Lunik I, past the moon and into orbit around the sun. Three months later the American ego was restored a bit when the United States put a satellite, Pioneer IV, into solar orbit.

It was short-lived satisfaction. On Sept. 14, 1959, the Russians hit the moon just as Premier Khrushchev arrived in this country to crow about it. And on April 12, 1961, they hit the jackpot.

They sent Maj. Yuri Gagarin—the first man in space—into one orbit around the earth. President Kennedy conceded at a news conference it would take this country some time to put heavy payloads into space.

Americans said things like "fantastic" or "amazing." There was a kind of general debate on how to improve the situation, and a Pennsylvania Republican, Rep. James G. Fulton, expressed the national mood best: "I'm darn well tired of coming in second."

Within the next three months this country put two men into a suborbital flight—Cmdr. Alan B. Shepard Jr. and Capt. Virgil I. Grissom—but their brief flights, although heartening, were no match for Gagarin's.

Just Another Crises Met, Mastered

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—For the D'Oyly Carte Company, it was just another crisis met and mastered.

It happened Monday, at the start of the Gilbert and Sullivan troupe's first American tour in seven years. Just as the company was beginning its final lighting rehearsal for the evening's opening at Pasadena Civic Auditorium, an underground cable exploded, cutting off electricity in downtown Pasadena. After a two-hour delay, rehearsal continued with emergency gear. "The Mikado" was presented on time that night, with the same brilliance and precision with which the company has done it since the premier in 1885.

PRECISION—This line of 8th Infantry military vehicles makes a strange but soldiery design as it halts at a checkpoint at Dreilinden, West Germany.

Such conquest of crisis was routine for the D'Oyly Carte Company, which has survived storms, blizzards and the changes of fashions for nearly 80 years.

A performance by the company is a rare experience. You get the feeling of tradition, as if the show were being presented precisely as Sir William Gilbert and Sir Arthur Sullivan desired it. Between acts, it chatted with the longest-running of all theatrical companies, he observed. "It tour and well east for his role has been going continuously since as guardian of the tradition-laden 1884-48 weeks a year with four company. With his bush mustache and proper accent, he is time that routine was broken was the very model of a modern during the early part of the last war. The company was out three months that time." D'Oyly Carte this year faced a crisis possibly more serious than fire bombs. Its monopoly in the British Isles on the work of G&S ended Dec. 31 with the expiration of the copyright; it had extended 50 years from the death of the surviving collaborator, who perished of heart failure in 1911 after trying to save a drowning girl.

"The Sadler's Wells Company put on a version of 'Iolanthe' on Jan. 1," said Worsley. "There was quite a to-do over who would present the first performance after the copyright was over. Our curtain went up three minutes before theirs."

Worsley seemed untruffled at the prospect of the G&S classics being available to anyone who cared to put them on. "If anything, that should rebound in our favor," he commented. "The public should want to see the operas in the traditional manner."

Early elevators were run by hydraulic power. Canada was discovered by John Cabot in 1497.

Low-Fat Better Breakfast

One package of frozen berries, buzzed with nonfat milk, brings contrasting color and flavor to the crunchy corn flakes, in this moderately low-fat well-balanced cereal and milk breakfast.

Coffee makers, toasters, blenders—let them perk, pop, buzz for you. Just see to it that the breakfast turned out for the man of the house is a Prudent Breakfast. If a moderate reduction of fat in the diet is indicated for your man, a moderate low-fat well-balanced breakfast should be served frequently. Such a meal can be planned with a basic cereal and milk serving as the main dish. A whole orange, or 1/2 cup orange juice; 1 ounce of cereal, dry weight, with 1/2 cup nonfat milk; 2 slices enriched bread, toasted and very lightly spread with butter; and an 8 ounce glass of nonfat milk complete the meal. The Iowa Breakfast Studies demonstrated that a well-balanced cereal and milk breakfast increased mental and physical efficiency during the late morning hours—and that plant protein was as efficient as animal protein for this purpose. There are so many ready-to-eat cereals on the market, there is no danger of breakfast menu monotony. Start today with corn flakes, regular or presweetened. Let Fruit Milk Blend add the appeal of contrasting color and fragrance. Use it on the cereal or as the beverage.

Fruit Milk Blend for Corn Flakes

1 package (10 or 12 ounce) sweetened frozen peaches, raspberries or strawberries

1 quart (4 cups) nonfat milk / Corn flakes, regular or presweetened / Sugar, if desired

Cut frozen fruit package contents into quarters. Combine fruit and milk in blender container; blend at low speed until smooth. Use on regular or presweetened corn flakes. Yield: 6 servings.

LOVE LIMERICK By HOWARD J. LITZLER

Kelly green is such a delightful color and its beauty is enhanced when it is the band around a pretty little white straw hat. So thought Timothy Patrick McCarthy as he tried in vain to keep his mind on the speaker.

Especially so, when the chaplain is jauntily perched upon the soft, brown curls of a lass two rows in front of him. And to Tim McCarthy, just a recent arrival from the old sod, it brought back visions and memories of the Emerald Isle. He felt the gentle, balmy breeze of a starry Irish night and heard, again, the fiddle in the village square.

And while the dancers in Tim McCarthy's mind whirled 'round and 'round his emotions shortened his breath as he gazed at the pretty young maid. Sure now, 'tis the fates which guided his way all these miles across the sea to a strong land only to find the fairest colleen of all. Or, perhaps, the feisty little leprechauns, who had so often given him a hard time, were now trying to make it up with a kindly deed.

Timothy Patrick McCarthy could scarcely explain his own feeling—one he had never known before. It was a warm, tender sensation that made him glow like when he beheld a glorious Irish sunrise—or sunset—it made no difference. It was the same mild contentment he had felt when he trod o'er fertile Irish fields. Then again, it was mixed with the fierceness he experienced when he had studied of the ancient invader of his beloved Ireland.

Ah me, thought Timothy Patrick McCarthy, whatever it is—it sure stirs a man.

And the beauty in the green dress and the pretty little hat was stirring him likewise.

And as he gazed and pondered and dreamed, the realization came in a flash. By the saints, he mused, 'tis love—'tis fallin' love that I am!

On and on galloped Timothy Patrick McCarthy's dreams. They were pleasant dreams, full of longings, full of ripe promises fulfilled, full of everything a man named McCarthy might want to dream about.

In fact, what man in the world

Booms Are Likely

FORT WORTH, Tex., (AP) — Jet flights that might produce sonic booms in Arkansas were announced for today by Carswell Air Force Base. The flights announced were:

Little Rock to 25 miles north of Kansas City, Mo., between 5:48 and 6:04 p. m.; Framington, Mo., via Greenville, Miss to Shreveport, La. 4:34 to 4:45 p. m.; Framington to Greenville, 5:3 to 5:48 p. m.; and from 49 miles south of Framington via Greenville to Shreveport, 7:38 to 7:58 p. m.

Arkansan Elected

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Mrs. J. H. Morris, a Little Rock, Ark., attorney, has been elected secretary of the family law section of the American Bar Association, holding its annual convention in San Francisco. In her new position, Mrs. Morris will represent the 8th Federal Judicial Circuit.

More than 100,000 persons have been buried in Arlington National Cemetery since 1864 and, at the present rate of burials, it has been estimated that the cemetery's 420 acres will be completely filled by 1970.

would not want to dream such pleasant things? No man alive, Timothy Patrick McCarthy told himself with an emphatic nod of his head.

"The thought of takin' a wife had never before occurred to himself but now what wonderful promise it held. To live out one's days with his own dearly beloved at his side seemed most appealing.

A simple life, a small cottage and the girl who sat two rows in front of him. She'd cook his meals and mend his clothes and, in turn, he'd be tender and kind and faithful. Tim McCarthy had the heart and mind and body to provide for such a lovely colleen. Oh, there's be work to do and a few worries too but their life would be joyous and perfect.

Their home would be filled with love, from cellar to garret, and that made the difference. Picnics in summer, winter nights by a warm fireside, and the slow walks to church on Sunday mornings.

He could hear the bells ringing now. And the children that came! Timothy McCarthy was nearly exploding.

The speaker on the platform must have concluded his address. The audience was dispersing and the colleen of his dreams arose with the rest.

Quickly Timothy Patrick McCarthy rose and followed. Almost rudely he elbowed his way through the throng toward this lovely young woman.

Her body moved with the rhythm of a sweet Irish ballad and the curls of her hair bounced like they do when you dance a merry Irish jig. Was the colleen about to walk out of his life forever? Timothy Patrick McCarthy determined otherwise and, moving in close, heart pounding, knees knocking, he murmured "Tis Timothy Patrick McCarthy that I am and I'd be pleased to make your acquaintance."

The eyes of the girl lit up. She smiled.

"Yah," she replied, "and I'm Hermina Schultz."

Morrilton to Honor Farmer

MORRILTON, Ark. (AP) — Clifton Clowers will be honored by the people who made him famous during Woolverton Mountain Day Saturday.

Clowers is a farmer and lives on top of the mountain near Morrilton.

Merle Kilgore, Clowers' nephew, wrote the song "Woolverton Mountain," in which a Clifton Clowers is a threat to any gent who comes up the mountain to woo his daughter.

The song ranks high on country and western music charts throughout the nation.

Claude King of Oklahoma City, who recorded the song, will be among the entertainers at the show at Lucas Field Saturday night. Country Johnny Mathis and a country and Western band also will be featured.

Kilgore will emcee the proceedings, which begin at 8 p. m.

Beauty Contest

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Fifty-two contestants start the rounds of judging tonight which this weekend will result in one of them becoming Miss International Beauty.

Winners in the evening gown, playsuit and national costume categories will be selected in the first evening's judging.

Miss Forestry

CLARKSVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Annette Carlisle, 18-year-old Clarksville beauty, was named Northwest Arkansas Forestry Queen here Tuesday night. Miss Carlisle, a student at the College of the Ozarks, is also the reigning Queen Elberta.

Abraham Lincoln was nominated for vice president on the 1856 ticket, but lost to Col William L. Dayton of New Jersey.

Protestants Told to Recruit Laymen

PARIS (AP) — Protestant churchmen were urged today to recruit laymen to back up their campaign of evangelism throughout the world.

A report to the central committee of the World Council of Churches, which is meeting here, said the restriction of the ministry to full-time paid workers is hampering the growth of Christianity.

The council's Division of World Mission and Evangelism said that in modern society and in areas where the church must move swiftly, new forms of ministry are needed.

The council groups 201 churches in more than 80 countries.

The recommendation that laymen be recruited for Protestant Church work parallels similar suggestions within the Roman Catholic Church which will be studied this fall in the Vatican Ecumenical Council.

Senate to Resume Other Business

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate resumes voting today on a thick stack of amendments proposed by opponents of the administration's satellite communications bill.

The outnumbered foes of the bill suffered one defeat after another Tuesday, stating with a 63-27 vote that broke the back of their filibuster by putting the Senate's debate-limitation rule into effect for the first time in 35 years.

Under this rule each senator is restricted to one hour speaking time on the bill and all amendments.

Civil rights advocates in the opposition camp seized notice that they will call up an anti-job discrimination amendment. Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., said it will give the Senate a chance to act on a proposal with civil rights overtones under the limitations of cloture.

While this could stir up a hornet's nest of trouble, Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., floor manager of the bill, said he would have "no qualms of conscience" about tabling it and thus killing it.

Seven amendments to the bill, providing for a private, government-regulated corporation to own and operate the U.S. portion of a space communications system, were tabled Tuesday by votes ranging from 74-15 to 63-27.

The bill's opponents contend the bill would create a private monopoly dominated by the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. and would be a gigantic giveaway of the taxpayers' investment in the government space program. Most of them favor government ownership.

After the debate-limitation rule was put into effect, tempers obviously were on edge as the Senate began operating under conditions most of the members had never before experienced.

"What we've witnessed is the guillotine," said Douglas, who protested that tabling motions were being offered as fast as amendments were proposed.

Late in the day Douglas said an amendment will be called up to prohibit the proposed corporation and any of its contractors from discriminating against any employee or job applicant on account of race, creed or color.

He referred to the proposal as "an FEPC for the satellite system."

Pastore said he would not hesitate to table it "because I know the purpose and the motive behind the amendment." Douglas contended the amendment was perfectly germane to the bill.

Douglas said it may have been overlooked by Southern foes of civil rights legislation. He said five Southern Democrats had, in effect, voted for debate-limitation by being absent when the roll was called. A two-thirds majority of senators voting was necessary to put the rule into effect.

Captivating Confections

FOR "DIVINE" EATING try this flaked coconut Divinity and Ambrosial Orange Peel. These delicious confections make "divine" little gifts, too!

To make Ambrosial Orange Peel wash 2 large oranges; remove peel and cut in 1/4" strips, being careful to scrape off most of white inner skin. Cover with cold water; bring to a boil. Drain. Repeat twice.

Measure peel; combine in saucepan with equal amount of sugar. Cover with water and bring to a boil; cook until syrup is almost absorbed. Remove from heat and put peel on racks to drain a minute. Roll quickly in flaked coconut (about 2 1/2 cups) and continue to cool on racks. Makes about a pound.

ANGEL DIVINITY

1/2 cup light corn syrup
2 1/2 cups sugar
3/4 teaspoon salt
3/4 cup water
2 egg whites
1 1/2 teaspoons pure vanilla

Few drops peppermint flavoring (optional)
1/2 cup chopped walnuts
1 cup flaked coconut
Red and green maraschino cherries, cut in pieces

Combine syrup, sugar, salt, and water in saucepan. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until sugar is dissolved. Continue cooking, without stirring, until a small amount of syrup forms a hard ball in cold water (or to 262°F.).

While syrup is cooking, beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. When temperature is reached, pour syrup slowly over egg whites, beating constantly. Beat until mixture appears dull and holds its shape. Add vanilla, peppermint flavoring, and nuts. Drop from tip of teaspoon into coconut on waxed paper; shape into a ball, coating with coconut. Decorate with cherries. Makes about 7 dozen candies.

Might Be Tough Explaining Meaning of Life on Earth to Planets in Outer Space

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—How would you explain life on earth to life on other planets?

Naturally, you'd need a "Hello Kit."

Scientists estimate there may be 100,000 or more planets in the universe capable of sustaining life—or maybe 100 million planets, since the human eye has as yet been unable to fathom the universe, and your guess is as good as anyone's.

But since earthlings are adventuring more and more into the dark pastures of space, the possibility—however remote—is increased that they may meet voyagers or refugees we do not know.

In such a collision of strangeness naturally each would like to know what the other is like.

Therefore it seems reasonable that earthlings—whether they spring from this side or that side of the Iron Curtain—should carry an emergency packet to explain what civilization on earth amounts to.

Perhaps it might contain these things:

The Bible and the Communist Manifesto, a pair of nylon socks, a map of our world, as we draw it, an X-ray of a cancer, an ulcer, a cardiogram of a heart in trouble, a pair of eyeglasses and a set of false teeth.

There should be a one-volume edition of Shakespeare, the collected poems of Emily Dickinson, and three novels—"Madame Bovary," "Of War and Peace," and "Vanity Fair."

Also the latest editions of the Montgomery Ward and Sears Roebuck catalogues, a tourist phrase book in English, Russian, French, German and Spanish; portraits of Moses, Christ, Mohammed, Confucius, Lenin, Goethe, Winston Churchill, George Washington and Abraham Lincoln.

Too, recordings of melodies from Mozart, Tchaikovsky, and Stephen Foster, a symphony by Beethoven, one aria from Italian opera, and a rock 'n' roll tune sung by Elvis Presley.

Then a drip-dry shirt, World Almanac, Encyclopedia Britannica, and the Oxford dictionary.

There should be a photograph showing an automobile parked 14 1/2 feet away from a fire hydrant at the base of the Empire State Building—and a traffic cop writing out a ticket; the collected works of Sigmund Freud, any Sunday newspaper and any day's edition of Pravda and the Congressional Record.

To round it out there should be a frozen dinner and the tape of any episode from any television Western, private eye or human soap opera series, a cigar, a package of cigarettes, and one bottle each of scotch, bourbon, gin, vodka and soda pop.

With those testimonials any earthling who met a foreigner in space could demonstrate the life he exemplifies.

No, come to think of it, he'd need these also: An aspirin tablet, stomach pills, a copy of his home mortgage, an overdue bill from his friendly neighborhood department store—and at least four credit cards.

Wonder what would be in the "Hello Kit" of the other fellow from outer space?

Wildlife Rabies Is Increasing

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A report released Monday by the state Health Department warned that wildlife rabies is increasing as a threat to the public health and economy.

The report shows that last year 107 rabid foxes were found in Arkansas, compared to 41 cases in dogs.

This rise in rabid foxes, it was noted, has resulted in heavier cattle losses.

Dr. Harvie R. Ellis, director of the department's division of veterinary public health said, "Rabies in Arkansas is a substantial public health problem which represents numerous difficulties in control and treatment."

Eradication of the disease has been prevented by the apathy of dog owners toward proper vaccination, except in times of rabies scares, the report said.

A survey covering 1957 - 62 showed no rabies in Saline, Perry, Conway, Van Buren, Yell, Logan, Sebastian and Prairie counties.

Fashion Signs of the Times

1891 1920 1962

IT SEEMS odd that a dear old corpulent gentleman in 1891, who couldn't reach his shoes, should have inspired fashion's most remarkable innovation, the Talon Zephyr, which gives the 1962 miss her trim, slim look. Our hero, Mr. Whitcomb Judson, fashioned the first zipper simply so he could zip up his shoes in comfort without bending over.

Since this first zipper, bulky as a dog chain, many improvements have led to today's Zephyr, which is thin as a seam, since the zipper coil is made of nylon in lovely permanent colors to match lady's gowns.

Mr. Judson may have thought that his shoe slide fastener was the answer to an easier life, but this new Talon zipper can release caught fabrics or threads—just bend in half, pull open, and it mends itself in two zips. It won't pinch, scratch, bulge or chill, and has all these crowning features, thanks to the nylon coil. In his day, of course, there was no such thing as nylon, while today, it would be difficult to find a woman who is not familiar with nylon's virtues. It is just second nature for a woman to use an iron set at "synthetic" temperature, or use a cloth when pressing the zipper because it is nylon—a fair enough exchange for a superior product and life long service to boot.

Middle Age Is Like Heaven — Many People Respect It But Few in a Hurry to Get There

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Are you middle-aged?

Middle age is like heaven in one respect—many people respect it, but few are in any hurry to get there.

It is a condition that is measured more by your actions and how you feel than the mere number of your years. A man of 35 may be middle-aged while one of 50 is still a mere overripe adolescent.

There is no doubt, however, when a woman reaches middle age. It is the day when she publicly admits for the first time that she is 60 at last. This is usually the day before her 62nd birthday, when she applies to Uncle Sam for Social Security.

Men are the borderline cases. But a man is probably middle-aged if:

His wife, instead of asking how he slept the night before, inquires, "How did you rest?"

He dreams more about his job than he does about romance.

He spends more time discussing the unpredictability of the weather than the unpredictability of women.

When he opens his morning paper, he turns first to the obituary columns, second to the business news section, and third to the sports pages.

His son quits borrowing his neckties because they look old-fashioned.

He votes against a community bond issue to build a new grammar school.

He is convinced anyone who skis or goes camping is nuts.

He clearly remembers Babe Ruth's lifetime total of home runs, but thinks Mickey Mantle is a new-style cloak for ladies originated by a Dublin designer.

On paydays he brings his paycheck home, and can't recall off-hand when he cashed one himself.

Following the example of his children, he calls his wife "Mother" instead of by the pet nickname he once used.

He enjoys taking medicine more than he does eating a piece of candy.

He wakes up before the alarm clock goes off—and lies there remembering old times.

The younger men in the office, he feels sure, don't have the same morale and pride in their work he had when he first started—and which he still has.

He whimpers like a small child if his wife throws away any of his old clothes while cleaning out the closet.

He can't hum any tune that became popular in the last five years.

At a cocktail party he talks only to people he already knows.

Any dinner guest in his own home who stays after 11 p.m. becomes a mortal enemy.

He knows exactly how many years, months, weeks and days it is until he gets his pension.

As he goes through his daily routine of living, the question he silently asks of himself most often is, "When does the fun begin?" That's middle age!

Ex-Porker Is Chaffee Chief of Staff

FT. CHAFFEE, Ark. (AP)—Former University of Arkansas football team captain Col. Choice R. Rucker has been named chief of staff of Ft. Chaffee.

His appointment was announced Tuesday by Maj. Gen. William C. Bullock commanding officer.

As chief of staff, Rucker will be responsible for operation and coordination of all staff sections on the post.

Rucker starred on the Arkansas team from 1932 to 1936 and captained the 1935 squad. He was a member of the 1933 eleven that played in the Dixie Classic in Dallas—a forerunner to the Cotton Bowl.

Rucker served with the 82nd Airborne Div. during World War II, went through the North African campaign and fought in Italy and Sicily. He holds the Silver Star and Purple Heart.

He served with the 9th Infantry in the Korean conflict.

Rucker coached at Classen high school in Oklahoma City and at Catholic High School in Little Rock prior to entering service during World War II.

Moonshiners Steal Still From Jail

CAIRO, Ga. (AP)—Moonshiners lured police away from the city jail before dawn and towed off a mobile moonshine still.

Police Chief A. L. Hester found the still aboard a pick-up truck in a heavily wooded area.

He had it driven to the rear of the city jail and disabled by removal of the distributor motor.

Early Tuesday police received a report of a disturbance.

The call proved to be a hoax. When police returned to the jail, the truck had been towed away.

Bank Construction

WASHINGTON (AP)—A $30 million fund for Federal Reserve Bank construction was authorized by the House Tuesday despite protests of Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., that the measure was another "bankers' bonus bill." The House Banking Committee said only $1,778,127 is now left in the construction fund and most of that is slated for a larger building at Little Rock.

State Praised for Training Negro Doctor

CHICAGO (AP)—Arkansas was singled out Tuesday as being outstanding in its acceptance of Negro medical students at the state university's medical school.

Dr. W. Montague Cobb of Washington, D. C., editor of the National Medical Association Journal, said:

"It isn't generally known, but Arkansas has regularly accepted Negro medical students since 1948, kept on doing so all through the furor over integration of Little Rock High School and now has schools have admitted Negro medical students, Cobb said.

Cobb, who also is chairman of the Department of Anatomy at Howard University Medical School, added that Negro medical graduates obtain internships in university hospitals in Arkansas on the same basis as do white doctors.

"By this time," he said, "Arkansas has graduated a couple dozen Negro physicians and I'd like to applaud them for it."

Nineteen southern medical schools have admitted Negro medical students, Cobb said.

Cobb was interviewed at the annual convention of the NMA, an organization of Negro doctors. He added that Negro medical gradu-

To Manage Campaign

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—W. L. Jamison of Magnolia has been named campaign manager for Dr. Kenneth G. Jones of Little Rock, Republican opponent to Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark, in the November General election. Jamison is former chairman of the Columbia County Republican Committee, Jones said he will establish a campaign headquarters in Little Rock about Sept. 1.
